

LANG & HEYNE DRESDEN

MANUFAKTUR FÜR FEINE UHREN

LANG & HEYNE GmbH & Co KG as watch manufacturer has been producing high quality wristwatches with artistic demands and perfect craftsmanship for 20 years. We are globally active, entrepreneurially as well as economically secure and are now planning an appropriate growth in order to fulfill the wishes of our customers even better. In order to master our challenges we have high expectations of our employees in terms of personal quality standards and commitment, versatility in the trades and individual departments and a high degree of willingness to learn and initiative.

For our company headquarters based in Radeberg close to Dresden we are looking for a highly skilled

Watchmaker / Master Watchmaker (m; w; d)

Independent and responsible work as well as the professional implementation of your tasks in a team have been your strengths for many years. You have technical understanding and are able to adapt flexibly to new conditions. In addition, you are used to contributing your own ideas for continuous improvement and you are used to putting yourself in the position of an entrepreneur.

Your area of responsibility:

- Manual processing of clockwork parts
- Joining of individual parts and
- (Final) assembly of components and complete movements and watches

We offer you:

- An exciting job with challenging tasks
- A motivating work environment
- A company with short decision paths
- Development and further training opportunities
- Employer subsidies for childcare and public transport

If you share our passion for producing mechanical marvels and you want to actively participate in the success of our manufactory, we would like to get to know you.

Please send your application documents to Mrs. Kati Pietsch, preferably by e-mail to: bewerbung@langheyne.de.
